ORGANIZATION

OF THE

CITY GOVERNMENT, JANUARY 5, 1920.

The inauguration of the city government for 1920 took place at the opera house, Monday, Jan. 5 at which time a program of unusual interest was carried out in the presence of a good sized audience.

The council of 1919 met at 7.40 in the council room with Mayor Leach and Councilmen Riley, Benson, Douphinett, Edmunds, Rousseau, Stewart and Seaman's present. Councilmen Aiken and Gerry were absent.

After transacting necessary business, adjournment was taken at 8.00 o'clock to the opera house. Mayor Leach then delivered his valedictory address as follows:

Mayor Leach's Valedictory.

Fellow Citizens of Franklin and My Associates in the City Council:—

The year just closing during which it has been our privilege to serve as the municipal government of this city, has witnessed many changes of far reaching importance.

This is especially true so far as the industrial life of the community is concerned, including the hours of labor, the cost of labor and the cost of living expenses.

It was to be expected while the government was taking millions of able bodied men from their customary occupation into the military service of the country, and while thousands were emigrating across the ocean to serve their native countries, and no immigration to take their places, that the scarcity of labor caused thereby would inevitably result in higher wages for labor.

One year ago, the war was over, but very few had been relieved from service by the government. The reasonable and natural expectation of most people was, that when our more than four million of men engaged in war work or war service were released from their war duties there would be such a surplus of labor that the price of labor would drop and the cost of living be reduced. To such an extent did this feeling prevail, that nearly every city had some organization whose business it was to find employment for the discharged soldiers. Instead of a surplus of labor and able bodied men hunting for jobs, we soon witnessed a movement among the laboring men for an eight hour day and increases in wages which have been in most cases successful. The demand for labor has been during the year largely in excess of the supply—at the highest average wages ever paid in this or any other country.

The industries and business of the country have welcomed the returned soldier to such an extent that the seeker of employment is very rare anywhere.

The year 1919 will also be long remembered as the year in which Franklin's quota for service in the World War returned to their homes as victors, after demonstrating themselves the equal, if not the superior, of any other fighting body of troops in the world.

In behalf of the people of Franklin, I bear witness and place on record to you one and all, the readiness and cheerfulness with which you answered your country's call; the manliness, courage and heroism with which you performed every duty while in the service; your soldierly bearing and modesty on your return home; your readiness and eagerness to lay aside your uniforms and engage at once in your business or occupation with the same spirit you showed in the service; and your Americanism in organizing at once your association in Legion of Honor to perpetuate the memories of the past and to keep alive the love of country for which you risked your lives.

Franklin can never fully repay you men who have served in this war. She will always owe you something. She has made a beginning and appropriated $5,000 as her share of the first bonus paid by the State and $2,500 for your entertainment on your return; the balance unexpended, $1,750, to be turned over to your organization. She will also publish in this year's report a complete record of each man from Franklin, so that the same may become a permanent part of the city records to which you and your posterity may always point with pride.

The Council has also favored the erection of some permanent tablet with your names thereon to be placed in some public place, but have felt like waiting until the men themselves could be consulted about it and your preference made known. I have no doubt this will be attended to the coming year.

The statement of resources and liabilities was as follows:

Liabilities.

Lucie H. Odell, note $5,000; Nesmith School, Central Heating Plant and Park bonds payable June 1, 1927, $30,000; Memorial Hall and Sewer Extension bonds, payable Oct. 1, 1928, $50,000; Water Works Refunding bonds, payable Oct. 1, 1921, $80,000; Trustees of Trust Funds, Cemetery Trust Funds, $22,351; Odell Memorial Arch fund, $2,000; Water Works note of March 1, 1916, $4,000; Central Street Improvement loan, $30,000; Sanbornton road to 1920 account, $308.70; Odell Park Cottage fund, $2,000; Overdue coupons, $114.75; Trunk Line Maintenance balance to 1920 account, $767.36; Trunk Line Construction balance to 1920 account $71.40; State Construction, balance to 1920 account, $3,384.49; Merrimack County, repaid on pauper account, $3.60; Soldiers' Reception balance, $1,700. Total, $231,701.30.

Resources.

Due from State, Trunk Line Maintenance and State Aid Maintenance accounts, $589.61; Due from Tax List 1918, $16.00; Due from Tax List 1919, $5,163.66; Cash in Treasury, $16,469.69; Balance indebtedness, $209,462.69. Total, $231,701.30.

Net debt, Dec. 31, 1918,	$222,028.71
Net debt, Dec. 31, 1919,	$209,462.62
Decrease of debt 1919,	$12,566.02

The financial results of the year are very satisfactory notwithstanding the high and largely increased cost of labor and materials, the largely increased appropriation for schools and the $2,500 appropriation for entertainment of returning soldiers. We have reduced the debt this year $12,566 and last year or 1918, $10,400, making a reduction in two years of about $23,000, the largest reduction of debt in two successive years since the city charter was adopted. At the same time we had the lowest tax rate of any city in the state but one which had about five millions property come in for taxation this year that had been exempt before this, and I understand found later their appropriations were insufficient and have had to increase their debt on that account.

It has seemed to me good business policy to postpone all public improvements not absolutely necessary while the extremely high cost of labor and materials continue.

The proposed addition to the school buildings which we have referred to the new council should be carefully considered before taking action.

The necessity is claimed for the accommodation of the new Commercial Course. The Council was told when we appropriated $2,500 this year, the expense would be less after this year. The cost of the proposed addition will be, I am told, not less than $30,000. It certainly will be more than double the cost in normal times. The last school census published on page 173, 1918 city report, shows an actual reduction in school children from 1383 in 1917 to 1370 in 1918.

The saving of interest on the cost would amount to $1200 per year at least.

Library Hall in the Library building, now owned by the city and without any regular use, could be easily made suitable. Arrangement could be made in several other places for rooms for this class, at slight expense, compared with cost of new building. We should bear in mind that before long we shall have to meet other large expenses and not increase our debt so that taxes will be burdensome. Before many years we shall have to replace Daniell bridge with a new one. It is now posted as unsafe for more than six ton loads. The old covered bridge cannot survive much longer, and must be replaced before many years. An addition to the City Hall building is badly needed and was seriously considered by the present Council the past year and plans made for such change, but postponed partly on account of the increased cost at this time.

We were able to make the reduction on our debt this year in part by reason of the increased valuation made by the assessors on manufacturing property. After the coming year we shall lose a part of this advantage, as the next apportionment of state tax will increase our share, to correspond to our increased valuation.

The change made by the council this year in the rate of discount in payment of taxes has saved the city in my opinion about $2,500.

Many complaints have been made by citizens this year regarding the condition of the highways and some are inclined to place blame on the council and the superintendent of highways. The highway committee and myself have tried to find a suitable young man to employ as an assistant superintendent, but no satisfactory person has been found at any price we could afford to pay. I am still of the opinion that such an arrangement would be advantageous. I consider Mr. Nowell as the best fitted man for his position of any one I know. He is familiar with not only all the roads, but all the culverts, bridges and sewers in the city. He should have a capable young man for an assistant to whom he can impart his knowledge so the city will have the advantage of both experience and youth.

To my council of this and the prior year, I extend my heartfelt thanks for your unvarying courtesy and kindly consideration and support you have given me for two years in managing the affairs of the city.

If we have differed on some occasions, I know that you have acted as I have for what you believed the best interests of the city. I have not seen any evidence or heard any suspicion but that you have in every case acted in good faith regardless of politics or your own interest.

To the citizens of Franklin, who have so kindly and unanimously supported me for mayor for two terms, I return my sincere thanks, with the hope you have no cause for regret on that account.

To my successor, Mr. Whittaker and you incoming councilmen, I extend my best wishes and assurances that I believe you will have a successful administration.

I know you all as my friends and am sure that you will fill the positions made vacant today with conspicuous success.

At the close of his address Mayor Leach introduced Mayor Daniel Nelson Whittaker. The oath of office was administered to Mayor Whittaker and Councilmen Bradbury M. Prescott, Alphonse Lagace and James B. Woodman by City Clerk I. V. Goss. Prayer was offered by Rev. H. C. McDougall, pastor of the Unitarian church.

Mayor Whittaker then delivered his inaugural address. It was as follows:

Mayor Whittaker's Inaugural.

Fellow Citizens: I am sure you will pardon me if I say just a personal word at the outset of these ceremonies, and permit me to express my sincere thanks and deep appreciation of the honor you have conferred by electing me your Mayor for the year 1920.

I came to Franklin in 1869 a boy and it has been my home for 50 years. Like my predecessor, Mayor Leach, one-half of the time I have lived under the old Town System, and one-half under the present city form of Government. As I grew to manhood, I learned to watch the growth and progress of the town, and later the city, and have always been pleased to note the success that has come to us as a community.

However, I must confess I have been disappointed, as I have thought that we have not derived all the benefits we should have had. We have now been working under the present city charter for a quarter century and have the name of being one of the best governed cities in New Hampshire. Let me assure you it will be my highest aim to keep that reputation untarnished.

The non-partisan policy so wisely established through our whole history as a city, will be strictly adhered to by this administration.

The Mayor will be at the office in City Hall on Saturdays, where he will be glad to confer with any one who may wish to see him on city business.

In the unsettled conditions which surround us on every hand, Franklin in the future as in the past must play her part. Let us all join in one effort to make Franklin a better and happier place to live in for all of her people, and thus add to the common welfare of the city.

In the Great War, now happily closed, Franklin men played an important part, and I am sure her people are justly proud of their record. Personally I feel that we have been a little slow in recognizing in some permanent manner these men who fought our battles for us. I believe some fitting memorial should be erected without delay, upon which should appear the names of all soldiers of the late war.

Gentlemen of the Council:

We have been elected by the voters of Franklin to conduct the affairs of the City for the year 1920. Let us not forget that we are but the servants of the people to whom we must render an account one year hence. Courtesy and fair treatment will, I believe, win their confidence. In cases where large outlays of money are involved, the people should be consulted.

The problem of keeping our highways in good condition has not yet been solved. We have a fine boulevard through the center of the City, of which we are proud, and I have only praise for the gentlemen who are responsible for this piece of work. But upon our side streets and outlying roads there remains a large amount of work to be done and I desire to impress upon the committee on highways that better results must be obtained. Perhaps we cannot make these streets and roads all satisfactory, but an earnest effort must be made to improve them. I believe better results can be obtained if the Highway Commissioner could have an able assistant, and I strongly recommend this change.

The Daniell bridge, so called, has been condemned as not being strong enough to carry present day traffic, but I believe it will be economy to wait until prices drop before we build a new bridge.

The previous council has turned over to us the problem of furnishing additional room for our schools.

A committee from the former Council has made careful investigation and has recommended the building of a four-room schoolhouse. In the near future you will be called upon to decide this matter. Owing to the high cost of material and labor at the present time it would seem to be a wise and economical plan to see if some temporary arrangement could be made which would accommodate the schools until we can get back to somewhere near normal conditions. The lower hall in the opera house might perhaps be fitted up temporarily for school purposes. I recommend that the Committee on Schools give this matter careful consideration.

I have no comment to make upon the other departments at the present time. So far as I am aware they are in good condition and performing their duties satisfactorily. I have no permanent policy to outline, but rather prefer to meet the conditions as they arrive. I am however, for an economical and efficient program for the coming year.

Gentlemen, I am ready for the business of the session.

Gentlemen: I have made these committee assignments with a desire to place each committee-man in a position where he may be able to do the best service for the city. I am confident we shall work together harmoniously. It is not expected we shall agree upon all matters coming before us, but the people have a right to expect that we shall cooperate for the best interest of the city. Courteous treatment of every member with due regard for each other's opinion, will, I believe, best assure this result.

It is my earnest desire that each committee member make himself thoroughly familiar with the needs of the department under his charge as soon as possible, and be able to give wise and prudent advice in making up the annual budget, with a view to give to the city efficient management in each department.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

To the Mayor and City Council of Franklin:

The Highway Commissioner respectfully submits the following report for the year 1920.

Continuous heavy snows through the winter, an excessive rainfall with many bad washouts during the Summer and Fall, together with increased wages, and large repair bills, owing to the poor condition of equipment have been the chief reasons of the large overdraft in this department. The total of all snow bills during the winter was $5,130.25. The sum required to repair washouts was $10,247.00. Repairs on tools and equipment, and the purchase of new tools amounted to approximately $3,850.00. Corrugated metal culvert pipe to the amount of $2,342.86 was bought and used. Plans for the reconstruction of several streets were necessarily abandoned on account of the bad washouts early in the season.

State Road Construction.

The road to the Andover line has been completed. The Hill road which had never been finished, was also completed to the satisfaction of the State highway department. Practically all of this road from the end of the macadam to the Hill line was constructed with a large percentage of clay, which is the reason that during the Spring and Fall, the road ruts very badly. A resurface of good gravel would overcome this difficulty to a large extent. Late in the season about fourteen hundred feet of grading was done on the Sanbornton road near the Hill sales stables, where drainage conditions were bad. I would advise the expenditure of all our State aid construction funds on this road next year.

Trunk Line Maintenance.

The entire length of the Merrimack Valley road was given a flush coat of tarvia B and sand; the macadam on the Andover road received the same treatment with sixty-five percent oil. Both roads have been patrolled the entire season, all culverts and gutters are well cleaned, and bushes cut.

State Aid Maintenance.

The Hill road and the Sanbornton road between the Hill sales stables and Sanbornton line have also been patrolled the entire season; the culverts and gutters have been cleaned and the bushes cut.

Country Highways.

The road machine was used as much as possible, several new gravel pits have been opened up, and quite a lot of this material has been carted on the worst places. I found the old stone culverts in very poor condition, and have installed many new metal culvert pipes. The policy of replacing the old culverts with metal culvert pipes should be continued. Trees, brush and overhanging limbs interfering with traffic, have been generally removed.

Streets.

After studying the conditions existing in the city, I find the surface drains in a deplorable condition. A large percentage of the pipes are too small, and some streets have none at all. Ten new catch basins have been built, large metal culverts have been installed on Sanborn hill and Bow street, and most of the small plank bridges used as driveways, have been replaced with pipes. I recommend a liberal appropriation to improve the surface drainage system. All of the macadam streets in the City excepting Central, Beech and Auburn received a flush coat of Tarvia B and sand. About nine hundred lineal feet of South Main street was scarified, treated with Tarvia B and sand and rolled. Gutters were concreted as follows: Church street, 46 square yards; Beech street, 19 square yards; Pleasant street, 139 square yards; Prospect, 435 square yards;

Franklin, 121 square yards; West Bow, 61 square yards; Willow Hill, 240 square yards and Main street, 450 square yards.

Sidewalks.

The gravel and ash walks have been given considerable attention, but owing to the many hills, I would suggest that a plan be worked out whereby these walks can be replaced with concrete as fast as possible. A new concrete walk with granite curb the entire length of and on the south side of Grove street has been constructed. The following walks have been recoated. Prospect street, 146 square yards; Franklin, 69 square yards; Church street, 72 square yards; West Bow, 39 square yards; Willow Hill, 58 square yards; Main street, 28 square yards.

Bridges.

The Daniell Bridge was new planked; the Sanborn Bridge recoated with concrete; the Republican bridge was inspected by John Storrs of Storrs & Storrs of Concord, and on his advice signs have been posted limiting the weight of load and vehicle to four tons. At Cross bridge all new stringers and plank were laid; also the same at Giles bridge, and the Punch Brook bridge on the Salisbury road. The upper bridge on Sucker Brook was newly planked; three new stringers were placed in the Needle Shop Bridge and one-half new planked. In addition to the above named bridges there are ten more wooden bridges which will all need attention next year. I would suggest that a plan be adopted to replace one or more of these bridges each year with permanent structures.

Sewers.

I have found the house sewerage system generally to be in very good condition. Extensions have been made as follows: Pearl street, 130 feet; Forrest street, 248 feet; Edmunds street, 188 feet. All manholes and outlets of pipes have been cleaned and the system flushed.

Garbage Removal.

With the exception of a short period during the first of the year all of the garbage has been hauled to the Webster Lake dump. I have kept the dump covered with earth, so that very few complaints have been made. The long haul and amount of earth necessary for covering have been the large items of the increased expense. It is my opinion that an incinerator set up at some place near the city would be a more economical and satisfactory method of disposing of the garbage.

Tools and Equipment.

On assuming charge of this department, I found practically all of the equipment in very poor shape. The three auto trucks had a complete overhauling, and two had to have all new tires; the steam roller had to have all new tubes, a new oil pump and in fact a general overhauling. The boiler at the crusher is in very poor condition and the bins are not satisfactory if the plant is to be moved to another location. Five of the sidewalk plows have been put in good condition, the four snow rollers have been thoroughly repaired, also two dump carts and two sleds. Small tools such as shovels, picks and hoes had to be purchased new, as practically all those on hand were worn out. The high price of these tools and the cost of all repair work, the highest ever known, is another big item in the expenditures of the department.

In conclusion, the highway Committee have been kept in touch with all work undertaken by the department, during the year, and all expenditures have been authorized by them. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Mayor and the three members of the Highway Committee for their co-operation in our work for better roads in Franklin.

JOHN E. COLBURN, Commissioner.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

To His Honor the Mayor, and Gentlemen of the City Council:

Each year brings more work to our department, and 1920 has been no exception.

The State Board, under whose authority we act, is continually advancing ideas that have a bearing on bettering public sanitation and safeguarding public health. These instructions if applicable to local conditions we try to enforce. Our office has received so many favorable comments regarding conditions in general, that we feel repaid for the extra thought and time required in bringing them about.

The sanitary conditions at the schools, theatres and public buildings are satisfactory, and those responsible for them have taken an added interest in their work.

The contagious diseases have been of a light form and no fatalities have resulted. An erroneous impression that all quarantined people are entitled to financial aid from the city, we wish to correct. It is entirely within the discretion of the Board. We still believe in and hope some day in the near future to have an isolation ward or building, where contagious cases may be cared for.

The City Dump, at the lake, which has been used for the past two years, we recommend to be used only in winter, if at all. With the co-operation of the Mayor and Council, we are at work on plans for an incinerator plant, which seems to be practicable in nearby cities. This plant would be stationed much nearer than the dump, and would care for all combustible material of which two-thirds of the collection consists.

The State Board is making plans to supervise the selling of locally slaughtered animals for food, and if perfected, many tubercular cattle will be destroyed rather than brought to market.

In the early fall, the City Council appropriated money to be expended by our department for a nurse. One was procured who worked in conjunction with the Red Cross, and splendid results were accomplished in the schools. At the beginning of this year, 1921, the nurse was not re-engaged and it seems to be a debatable question, whether two nurses are needed for full time. It is suggested, by some welfare workers, that one nurse, trained especially in public health work, be employed for full time, and if occasion requires, as in the fall for school work, or during an epidemic, an assistant could be procured. The cost of two nurses is about $3,000 a year and we feel that the amount is of sufficient importance that it should be expended by a committee, who have a knowledge of what is needed.

We endorse the idea of a gymnasium at the Community House, the Golf Links at the Country Club and any other outside activities.

F. A. BAKEMAN,
I. V. GOSS,
HECTOR MORIN,
Board of Health.

CITY SOLICITOR'S REPORT.

To the Council of the City of Franklin:

The only suit in court in which the city is interested, is the petition by the International Paper Company for abatement of portion of the tax on the Cross dam, referred to by me in last year's report. Nothing has been done by the plaintiff toward trying the case during the year and I am expecting the same will be discontinued by the plaintiff.

I have brought two suits during the year for the city: one to recover from the owners of dogs for damages paid by the city for sheep killed by their dogs and one for damage to the Daniell Bridge by an auto running into it. Both were settled after being entered in Court by payments approved by the Mayor and the Committee of the Council having charge of the matter.

Another suit was brought against the city for damage to sheep by dogs, the only question being the amount of damage. This suit was settled by a satisfactory reduction in the amount of the claim by the plaintiff.

I have given advice in an unusual number of cases to the city officials in matters which have been disposed of without litigation.

The most important question that has arisen during the year in which I might have been expected to act under ordinary circumstances was the petition of the Franklin Light and Power Company to the Public Service Commission for permission to increase rates to the extent of fifty per cent.

Having been a Director and Counsel for the Company since it was organized and being one of the largest stockholders therein I did not think that the public would feel that I should act as counsel for the city in the matter and advised that the city employ other counsel which they have done.

I have not however acted as Counsel for the Company in the matter but as a Director voted and protested against any raise of rates at this time and have not hesitated at all times when inquired of to express my opinion that present rates were ample and there was no occasion for an increase at this time.

The fact that the city paid this Company nearly $10,000 last year for lights and power and that the value of the Company's property is largely dependent on its being granted a continued monopoly by the city to furnish lights, would seem to justify the council in contesting this proposed raise of rates.

PARK COMMISSION.

In this high tercentennial year, it may not be amiss to attempt to refashion Odell Park as it was in the days of its aboriginal occupants, of whom Walt Whitman might have sung,

"The red aborigines, leaving natural breaths, sounds of rain and winds, calls of birds and animals in the woods, syllabled to us for names: Winnipiesaukee, Pemigewasset, Merrimack, Aquedahtan, Kearsarge, Uncanoonuck, Pabasquamak, Cheskwadadas, Kwiguigum, Kwikueskas. Leaving such to the State, they melt, they depart, charging the water and the land with names."

The deep mosses along our rivers, where Pontauhun and Ponbakin were "born and bred all their days," shall no more be imprinted with the moccasin of their ancient masters. As the summer sun in the seventeenth century, flecked the wigwam of the dusky hunter in the primeval forest, so the historic light falls only in flecks upon the aboriginal life at the headwaters of the Merrimack.

The Wabanaki made but slight impress upon the natural features of our hills and valleys. His highway was a forest trail, his bridge a prostrate tree, his house a fragile wigwam. The river yielded him fish in great abundance, and by trapping and chase he secured meats in plenty, and furs and skins for bed and wardrobe.

The numerous artifacts,—stone arrow-points, sinkers, gouges, tomahawks, agricultural implements, and the rarer ornamental stones with pictographs, found on the site of Odell Park and the opposite bank, show that along the river "riffles" must have been a long-occupied village of the Wabanaki. Though these finds attest their former presence, and remind us that the nomadic tribes, once possessors of the lands we now occupy are an extinct people, and that their history and language are in a great measure obliterated, we should bear in mind that it was not before they had marked every nook, stream and pond with the name of the owner in picturesque sibilants and gutturals.

Kwanahomo, the "long bend," in the vernacular of the tawny denizens of the forest, was doubtless the name by which the little peninsula of fifteen acres, Ox-Bow Point,—now occupied by the Franklin Light & Power Company, the adjoining manufacturing plants, the Armory, and the ten acres we now call Odell Park,—was known in pre-historic times.

Here, three centuries ago, the Wabanaki listened to the folklore and songs of their people at their mothers' knees. Here the "Penacooks" dipped their dusky bodies in the cooling waters of the "crooked" stream, or paddled noiselessly on its transparent bosom, when they fished at the foot of the rapids, or crossed over to the foot of Cheney Hill, preparatory to conveying their canoes up the ravine, which they called Azawinigan, the "Carrying-Place," or Portage up an acclivity. .

South-east of the Park Bungalow, they had a small patch of corn (Skamgnar), which they planted at the commencement of June. As the soil became impoverished, they increased its fertility by dropping a fish into the corn-hill at planting. By the end of August the squaws were able to harvest a luxuriant crop.

The lily-scented, duck-frequented, heron-haunted lagoon, which now delights the eye in summer, and which, in winter, affords intermittent sport for throngs of skaters, three hundred years ago was doubtless the marshy haunt of the Moskuas, or musquash as the boys used to call the muskrat. But in the 17th century Moskuaswawa,—muskrat skins,—did not command the aristocratic sums which obtain today.

Pontauhum, the Trapper, and Pontakin, the Arrow-Maker, are the only individual names of local Wabanaki nomenclature, which have come down to us through three centuries. When the Endicott expedition came up from Massachusetts in 1652, these were the two "young and very intelligent" guides who piloted the outfit up to the Aquedahtan. One wonders if their bones are not resting somewhere in the encircling hills overlooking the rivers with which they were familiar!

In 1743,—ninety-one years later,—an Indian called Coaus by an interpreter, appeared before the provincial Governor and Council at Portsmouth, asking for a Truck house in this locality. The name, Coaus, meant "Pine Tree," and he seems to have borne himself with poise and openmindedness, like the pine tree, in sun and storm. A few weeks later, sundry Indians petitioned against setting said Truck house "at or near Winnipissioke Pond."

"And we humbly think that if it be set there it will do more Damage than benefitt to us. And we humbly desier that if a Truck House be built, it may be set at a place we call the carrying place, which is on the Easte side of the River which runs out of Winnipissioke Pond ag—the mouth of Pemichewassue River. And this is the (desire) of all the Indians, so far as we had op'tunity to& that for these reasons. First, "

(Here, unfortunately, there is a blank in the Journal of the House.) To be located on the East bank of the River, Winnipesaukee, in sight of the Portgage, (Aza-winigan), and also in sight of the "Crotch" of the two rivers, (Squawhigenek), it would have been necessary to locate the Truck House within a few feet of present Library Building, at the entrance of Kwanahomoik,—the "long bend" which now contains Odell Park. This is an interesting fact, and one worthy of preservation.

The writer thereof hopes he may be pardoned for taking up valuable space in our City Report on a topic only remotely germane to the life of our inter-city Playground. To have rescued this much from history of the noble but ill-fated Wabanaki, in whose rejection we lost a valuable ingredient from our national melting pot, seems not altogether unworthy.

In the early season of the current year, the City Council referred to the Park Commission, a numerously signed petition, asking for a foot-bridge from the extreme end of the Park, to the foot of the old Carrying-Place. While admitting that such a structure would afford a convenient means of ingress and egress to and from the Park,—to residents of West Bow street,—your Commission felt that the expense of erecting a bridge at this time would be unwarrantable; furthermore, that the cost of policing the same throughout the season would be not inconsiderable. Again it seemed to the Commission that the circumscribing river gave to the Playground the charm of exclusiveness, which would, in a measure be lost if spanned by a bridge at this point. The Odell Memorial Archway, at the Eastern end of the Park,—easily accessible from both ends of Memorial street,—affords a dignified entrance to the Park, and should prove satisfactory and adequate for years to come. At present another entrance to the Park would seem as superfluous as having two holes in one's barn-door, "one for the old cat, and one for the kitten."

A few years ago, actuated by the spirit of urban philanthropy, the Board of Water Commissioners turned over to the Park Commission, a somewhat unsightly reservoir on the North side of Pleasant street. The water had been condemned, and the supply is no longer used by the City. He who puts a playground where none was before is a public benefactor; he who puts a hillside park where was once a sidehill reservoir, is adding a new glory to civic aesthetics. Mindful of these facts, your Commission has examined the donated structure, with a view to improving the City's aspect, but, as the condemned building is yet in a fairly good condition and would cost several hundred dollars to rebuild, it was decided not to remove it until a further analytic test of the water should warrant the razing of the structure, and the filling up of the reservoir.

At Webster Lake, nothing beyond the sale of a few lots on the East side of Webster street has been accomplished. Notwithstanding the demand for a public bath-house, your Commission decided that the time was not yet ripe for the expenditure of several thousand dollars for that purpose, especially as the cost of a caretaker would add materially to the already somewhat overburdened Police department expense.

At Daniell Park, there has been another year of noticeable growth in the pines of the various plantations. Sturdily and steadily they have been adding strength and beauty,—healing themselves where they were side-swiped and mutilated by the double-runners during the wonderful coasting on the crust of last winter,—their evergreen arms are broadening, and their tender leader-tassels are growing skyward. Somewhere among them may be a shapely tree which, a century hence, may replace the flagstaff which now graces the tiny triangular Memorial Park opposite our City Hall.

Treasurer, Park Commission.

FRANKLIN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Franklin, N. H., Jan. 25, 1921.

To the Mayor and Members of the City Council,
Franklin, N. H.:—

The following reports from the treasurer and librarian cover the financial condition of the library and its work during the past year.

During the temporary absence of Mr. W. F. Daniell, Mr. H. P. Swett is Acting Treasurer.

The present appropriation is just about sufficient to care for the running expenses of the library outside the purchase of books. The book equipment is cared for by other sources of revenue.

The balance of funds on hand the first of the year is due to public subscriptions toward the establishment of a library for some years previous to the opening of the library and is really a part of the permanent fund of the library and not a part of the current funds.

The present construction of the roof of the library building is unsuitable in a climate similar to that of this vicinity and has been a cause of considerable extra expense in caring for the building. The steep embankment on the river side is also a source of extra expense and an annoyance in caring for the grounds around the building. These matters may sooner or later bring upon the library some unusual expenditure of money.

Respectfully submitted,
Franklin Library Trustees,
W. F. DUFFY, President.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Trustees of the Franklin Public Library:

The year 1921 promises to be a repetition of the year 1915 when the circulation exceeded all former records by over 3500 volumes. Increasing unemployment made the November circulation the largest on record for November, and the December circulation exceeded all other Decembers. If this eagerness for reading continues through the winter, the circulation for the whole year will be very large.

The most memorable day of 1920 fell on March 6, when the great storm which tied up all traffic occurred. It fell on Saturday, the busy day at the library. The librarian arrived on snowshoes, ten minutes late, to find five people shivering at the door. The wind, which was terrific, had blown the snow half way up the door, and the snowshoes were used in shovelling it away in true Boy Scout fashion.

The discovery was soon made that the water pipes were frozen, and snow had to be heated on the oil stove to thaw them out.

The sound of shouting drew attention to the Heating Plant where a coal team was being unloaded by two men in the terrible blizzard. The horses kept turning in their effort to protect themselves from the biting wind. If it had not been for this timely load of coal it is likely that all the public buildings heated by the Central Heating Plant would have been greatly damaged by the intense cold.

In spite of the weather, thirty-five people came during the day and evening, the most heroic being a woman who had sent four of her children to the Great War, and who braved the storm from Prospect Hill so that her family might have reading for over Sunday. One hundred and eight volumes were sent out. This day proved a true test for the indispensibility of the library.

In May a Rummage Sale was held in the basement of the library. By this means $305.00 was raised and sent to the American Library Association to aid in the work which the association started during the war.

The library has lost a valued helper in the death of Rev. H. C. McDougall, who was one of the first to recognize the need of a public library for Franklin and who never failed in his loyal support after it was established.

The beech tree on the bank of the river was saved at his suggestion when the grounds were graded.

During the summer the librarian was granted a three months' leave of absence which she spent very happily in Milford, N. H., and in Hingham, Mass.

FRANK PROCTOR,
Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Board of Education:

I herewith submit my sixth annual report as the superintendent of schools of this city.

The total enrollment of our schools has not greatly changed from that of a year ago. We have, however, raised the per cent of attendance almost one and a half per cent as well as lowered the average number of tardinesses per pupil.

Teachers.

Fifteen of our thirty teachers reported a year ago have left our teaching force during the year. Four of these are now teaching in this state at a higher salary than could be offered here; five are teaching outside the state at greatly increased salaries; three have married and three have entered a business life.

We have been most fortunate in securing experienced and trained teachers to fill these vacancies, and the opening of a kindergarten in the vestry of the Baptist church and the employment of an additional teacher in the high school has increased the number of teachers employed to thirty-two.

The schedule of salaries was raised at the opening of the year and again at the opening of the Fall term and in comparison with the salaries paid in towns and cities of similar size and valuation in this state, is believed to be fair and just.

Beside a salary sufficient for living conditions another factor in securing and retaining competent teachers is a satisfactory, home-like boarding place. Some of our teachers have found it almost impossible to secure satisfactory room and board at a price which they could afford to pay. I believe that a public service can be done by those having comfortable homes with ample accommodations by opening their homes to the teachers. Such a home will aid directly in adding to the efficiency of the teacher and her school.

Re-assignment of Rooms.

The adoption of a commercial course in 1919 made the use of two rooms for that work necessary. The experiment of using the former kindergarten room did not prove satisfactory and a re-assignment of rooms was made whereby the fourth grade formerly in the high school building was assigned to the Hancock building. The first floor of the high school building is now occupied by grades five, six, seven and eight, while the second and third floors are used for high school work, the commercial department occupying two rooms on the third floor of the building.

A demand for the establishment of a kindergarten to replace the kindergarten formerly held in the Hancock building being found, it was decided to open such a school in the basement of the Baptist church, liberal terms being given for that purpose. This school has been very well patronized and seems to justify the added expense.

The room set aside as a rest room in the high school building has been assigned to an extra teacher, who is giving individual assistance to pupils in English and the results of one term's work has proven its value. Classes in physical culture such as are given in the best schools at present are conducted by this teacher and will undoubtedly prove of great value in correcting cases of poor posture and carriage. Connected with the high school and the grades in the two buildings on the high school lot there are about five hundred fifty pupils and teachers and a room is very much needed fitted with a couch, chairs and other simple appliances where a person suffering from faintness or from a minor injury can be taken and first aid administered.

Two additional rooms would probably care for our needs for several years to come and the cheapest method of securing these rooms so far advanced is by taking off the present roof of the Hancock building, replacing it by a roof similar to that on the high school building and making two rooms in what is now the attic of the building or in the third story of the building, so formed. These rooms would be amply lighted, could be easily heated and the building would be but little if any taller than at present. I trust that the City Council may see the advisability of granting an appropriation for this purpose.

Commercial Department.

The value of the Domestic Arts and the Manual Arts departments has been seen for several years.

The Commercial department which was instituted a little over a year ago has clearly demonstrated its worth. It has attracted pupils to the schools who would not otherwise have entered the school; it has kept in school pupils who are not attracted by purely academic work and is giving many an insight into business practices and furnishing them a means of livelihood. We have an ample equipment for such a course and we believe that our graduates can show equally good if not better results than can be obtained at the ordinary business school.

Evening Schools.

The law requires all non-English speaking people under twenty-one years of age to attend evening school. The second term of our school opened in January 1920, and at the close of the term certificates of attainment were given fifty-five pupils who had attended the school regularly and had made good progress. Fourteen men who had attended the class in citizenship passed the final examination before the U. S. District Court and received their full citizenship.

The school for the present year opened in October and ninety-eight men and women have been registered, the average membership being seventy-five. This would undoubtedly have been greater had not the closing of some of the local mills caused a number of pupils to return to Canada or seek employment out of town. The spirit shown by our present pupils is excellent and their advancement from month to month can be clearly noted.

High School.

The following report was received from the Commissioner of Education regarding the work of our high school for last year:

"The attendance record of 95 per cent was better than the state average of 93 and the tardiness record of 1.7 per pupil was about the same as the state average. In looking over the Work Reports for last year, I find that work in the following subjects was especially commendable:

1. Reading of 50 pages in Latin I.
2. Performance of 70 to 85 experiments in Chemistry.
3. Performance of 44 to 50 experiments in Physics.
4. Report of reading and map work in United States Constitutional History.
5. The reading of Latin Plays in connection with the work in Latin IV, V and VI."

A larger number than usual of our recent graduates are now attending colleges and a number have entered our normal schools and will soon be added to the teaching force of our state, returning to the city and the state its investment in them.

Repairs.

For several years the plumbing in the high school building has caused trouble but owing to its obsolete style and to war conditions it could not be replaced. A new system has just been installed in the boys' and the girls' basement of that building and we believe that we now have a modern sanitary system which will not soon get out of order and which will do away with all waste of water. Our plumbing bills ought to be very much reduced in the future.

The gravel roof on the building has leaked continually and repeated repairs have not remedied the trouble. It is believed that the only satisfactory result will be secured by replacing the entire gravel roof during the summer vacation. This is believed to be the only large item of repair needed the coming year.

Medical Inspection.

In September, Dr. Drake, who had so acceptably served as school physician for a number of years, felt unable to continue with the work. It was then taken over by the Red Cross nurses who became available for school nursing and who have given painstaking care to that work.

Owing to their tactful and persistent follow up work there are but few cases of unvaccinated pupils at present and treatment has been secured for many cases of poor vision, enlarged tonsils and adenoids as well as minor troubles. Our local physicians have given freely of their time and skill when treatment could not otherwise be secured and to them we extend our thanks.

We have not been as successful in securing treatment of the teeth as is desirable and I hope this matter may secure more attention the coming year.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

Mr. George A. Keith, Superintendent of Schools:

In last year's report was inserted the new program of studies. This was done partly as a matter of record to show how the school was affected by the introduction of a full commercial department. It has taken two years to put the commercial department into full operation, which is now the case.

It is possible at this time to see some results of the new program. As was expected, because of the wider opportunity for choice of studies, the number of failures has been reduced. This is very gratifying.

The commercial work has been well started and continued. Since the shorthand and typewriting do not come until the junior year, pupils are interested to stay through the course. Consequently, pupils are not leaving school as easily as before the change. It is, also, always an important aim to keep pupils in school.

This brief review, so far, has to do with the changes introduced last year. Two innovations of this school year should be brought to the attention of citizens. One of these is gymnastics. Although this work in gymnastics is not so extensive as might be wished it is a long step forward, and it is to be hoped that it will be continued with more time devoted to it. At present, the girls have gymnastics one period of forty minutes each week. The boys of the freshman class together with a few others also have it. The work has not been required but very few have failed to take it. In the light of investigations made during the war it seems scarcely necessary to argue for gymnastics in the schools. Even if pupils commonly exercise in the open air, it is very valuable by systematic exercises to train those muscles that are not ordinarily used. One of the greatest objects of these exercises is to develop for each pupil the correct posture of the body. Without such exercise the pupil is likely to form habits, in school and out of school, of sitting and standing poorly.

The second innovation for this year is the special training in English. This is largely individual work. Those pupils who, for one reason or another, are found to be doing poorer work in English than they should, have work with the teacher to correct their faults. This special work has now been done for one term and the results are excellent, as shown by decided improvement on the part of those pupils who have had the drill. English is the basis of all studies and effective command of English is necessary for success in any walk of life.

These two new features—the gymnastics and special English—are valuable introductions and put the Franklin High School in the forefront of progressive high schools. The hope may be expressed that the school may continue to have this helpful instruction.

Although the community house, which Franklin is to have, will not be more directly connected with the school than with other interests, it will, nevertheless, be of great advantage to the high school. The pupils now have no place where they can play games within doors in the winter, except the Opera House, which has to be hired. Most high schools have some place, as in a basement, where this can be done to some extent. With this new opportunity, the pupils will have privileges, which have long been needed and which ought to prove very beneficial.

The two scholarships offered to graduates of the school should not be forgotten. The one for Simmons is now being used, but the other, for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, no one is using.

Respectfully submitted,

H. P. SWETT.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF THE COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Mr. George A. Keith, Superintendent of Schools:

A sense of responsibility is one of the most valuable assets which a young person who is starting out to make a name for himself can have. It is one of the duties of the commercial department to develop this quality in all students taking this course since it is so closely related to the work. In view of the fact that a lack of responsibility is one of the main obstacles to advancement in the business world to-day considerable attention is being given it.

The Freshman class has learned to use the journal, ledger, trial balance, statement, and to close the ledger by journal entries. Arithmetic has been given in close connection with bookkeeping, the object being to make it a tool for use in this study. The instruction has included mental rapid calculation, addition, subtraction, multiplication, short cuts, interest, and bills.

The Sophomores have continued with the use of the journal, ledger, cash book, purchase book, and sales book. The office practice conducted by the students has also been used. The class is now studying drafts. Arithmetic has been studied in the manner described above.

During the last half of the year we are to study commercial geography and history. It is the aim of this course to become better acquainted, first, with our own states and their products; and second, with the foreign countries and their products.

Gregg shorthand is commenced in the Junior year. The first seven lessons in the Manual have been thoroughly covered.

The course in touch typewriting is also begun at the first of the Junior year. The first nine lessons in the text have been completed, while special attention was given to correct position and fingering. As the class advances in typewriting, correspondence will be introduced and all letters will be prepared on the typewriter. Correct spelling at all times is required and it is in this way that the course in spelling is given.

The finishing touches of the course are given in the Senior year. At the first of the present year the Seniors took dictation at eighty words and were able to typewrite thirty words a minute. They now take dictation at one hundred words and the best typewritten paper which has been handed in was written at the speed of thirty six words a minute. The net rate of thirty six words was obtained after a total of forty words was deducted as a penalty for the four errors which it contained. This method of correcting papers is in accordance with the International Typewriting Contest Rules.

All the while our aim is to reduce the number of errors, for of what value is a letter which is full of typographical errors? The course is finished with a practical office training, a small part of which will be taken from text books. The greater part will be obtained in actual business as afforded by the office of the headmaster and other offices in the city. Several are now receiving remuneration for work done after school hours.

I would suggest for the improvement of our course that the subject of penmanship be added. At present this subject is not given in the high school. It is not enough to teach it in the grades; we must direct the student all the way through high school if he is to retain the art of good penmanship through life.

Respectfully submitted,

J. LESLIE NORCROSS.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF THE DOMESTIC ARTS DEPARTMENT.

Mr. George A. Keith, Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my first report as instructor of Domestic Arts in the Franklin schools. The sixth and seventh grades each have one hour a week of sewing. The sixth graders made for their first project sewing bags. Since then they have made a variety of simple articles such as holders and towels.

The seventh grade is beginning machine sewing this year. Some have made bungalow aprons, several have made bloomers; a few, blouses and dresses. Later in the year they will have instruction and experience in the use of commercial patterns.

In the eighth grade I have been giving one week of sewing to two of cooking, because I feel that even that can scarcely be considered enough to graduate proficient cooks at the end of the year. This is more especially true where only one hour a week can be devoted to the subject. In sewing, aprons, underwear, dresses, and knitted caps have been made. The cooking class did considerable canning and preserving in the fall; and has since made biscuits, cakes, and cookies with variations of each.

The Freshmen in high school have seven periods a week of Household Appliances. They have taken one trip to the source of the city water supply and have inspected in the laboratory many of the appliances which have been discussed in class. Six of these girls, never having had cooking and sewing in school, have been taking special work in those branches the other three periods of the week. The class, as a whole, has prepared and served two breakfasts for members of the class.

The Sophomores, in Home Nursing and Physiology, are discussing and learning how to meet problems which many of them may be called upon to face in their own home at some time. By learning the reason for the sick condition existing and for treating it in a particular way, it will become so fixed in their minds that they need never feel the helplessness of the strictly amateur nurse.

The Household Organization girls, having studied plans of houses, having invented ideal houses of their own, and having remodelled an existing house to suit their tastes and presumable needs, we hope, will know what they want for their own houses. They will not be obliged, therefore, to follow entirely the architect's opinions for a home in which he will not have to live.

If I am not mistaken this is the first year that the course in Household Management has been taught to the Seniors. The first part of the year was devoted to the study of budgeting and household accounts. By taking up, also, the theory of cooking work in textiles and the drafting of patterns I am sure this course can be made of practical value to these more advanced students.

This winter term the Department is planning to serve some hot dish every noon to the pupils who must remain at the High School building between sessions.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHELLE M. HAYES,
Instructor in Domestic Arts.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF THE MANUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT.

Mr. George A. Keith, Superintendent of Schools:

As supervisor of the Manual Training Department, I hereby tender my first annual report.

In the few months that it has been my pleasure to be connected with the Manual Training Department of the Franklin Schools, it has been a great satisfaction to me to note the steps in progression since the beginning of the school year. The boys in the grades have shown a marked and characteristic enthusiasm, which feeling has been carried along into the High School classes where more elaborate and artistic projects are carried through.

At the beginning of the current year, the boys in the lower grades had extensive instruction in toymaking and small household articles; and the standard of workmanship, at first crude, soon developed until they became quite skillful and adept with a limited variety of tools.

The older boys have adhered to more difficult problems and very satisfactory work has resulted.

Typewriter tables for the Commercial Department, lamp stands, taborets chairs, book racks, shelves, tool boxes and various other useful articles have been constructed by the boys of the High School. They have also had the opportunity to perform repair work for the different rooms in the school building.

The aim of the Manual Training Department cannot be confined to the mere construction of different projects, but covers a much broader sphere. Methods are introduced whereby the student gains a real knowledge of work as it is actually done under commercial conditions and freedom is allowed in the selection of projects eliminating the distasteful possibility of a sequence of subjects. An artistic sense, possessed more or less by every boy, coupled with a skillful use of the hands, often produces results surprising to even the student. A high standard of efficiency difficult to attain, prevents a feeling of complete satisfaction, and it is our aim to keep the standard high. Boys are taught to do their own thinking, thereby gaining a confidence which should at all times be of value to them.

The progress of the past makes certain a bright prospect for the future which is all that could be desired.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. WHALEN,
Supervisor of Manual Training.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

Mr. George A. Keith, Superintendent of Schools:

Last year there appeared in the Atlantic Monthly an article by Dallas Lore Sharp entitled "Patrons of Democracy," The "Patrons of Democracy" are the public schools and to quote Professor Sharp "The true end of American education is the knowledge and practice of democracy * * * whatever other personal ends an education may serve * * * . Neither life nor the getting of a living, but living together, this must be the single public end of a common public education hereafter."

To my mind this aim of education clinches music's place in the public schools, as music is acknowledged to be the greatest socializing influence there is.

In making music a real factor in this training to "live together" I agree with Mr. Cole, Supervisor at Brookline, Mass., who said "The emphasis should be laid upon the singing and we then should go along teaching all the musical intelligence that we can bring about." I stress the singing and then teach as much of the technical side as there is time.

It is difficult for me to tell what has been accomplished in the short time that I have been here. The fall term was spent in finding out what each grade was capable of, its weakness and how to deal with it, all the time keeping in mind the requirements of the grade. I hope to be able to bring the music up to the requirements by June. It seems to me that the greatest improvement is in the team work of the grades. A few children are not doing the work, but each one is doing his share.

The singing of Christmas carols by the pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades was a splendid thing for the children and gave me an opportunity to hear them at their best, supposedly. I do not believe it was their best, as they had not sung together and only two grades had sung with the piano this year. Even one rehearsal would have made a difference and shown better what they are really capable of doing. It would be an advantage if these grades could sing together and with the piano two or three times during the term.

The girls of the fifth grade and the boys of the seventh grade sung carols at the Christmas meeting of the Woman's Club. I have found that the children do better work, when they are working with a definite object in view, and therefore am always glad for them to aid in social affairs.

I have found the teachers in the grades sincerely interested and doing commendable work in music.

The high school music has been my greatest problem. At first there seemed to be little real interest, but it has developed to a noticeable degree. Recently I asked two questions of my chorus, to give a definition of music, and why he or she was in the chorus. The definitions showed rather a vague but general idea. In regard to being in the chorus the result was as follows:

	Girls	Boys
To learn to sing and understand music	32	11
Liking for music	40	11
Preferred music to spelling	10	14
No reason		3
To pass time away		2

The chorus was changed in November. One week the period is divided, the boys singing one half, the girls the other. The next week they sing together. There has been an improvement in the singing since this was done.

The girls' glee club started with sixty-three members, but dwindled rapidly and finally came to a point where it was without a second soprano or alto part. I gave it up and organized an orchestra. There are six violins, a cello, a clarinet, and a piano. The attendance at the orchestra rehearsals has been almost as discouraging as the glee club. I have met the same difficulty in the appreciation class which I hold after school.

A high school of this size should maintain a girls' glee club, a boys' glee club, and an orchestra, besides the chorus and the appreciation classes. These musical organizations should aid in the support of the music. They should purchase some of the instruments, keep them in repair, and get new records for the Victrola.

I have been told more than once that Franklin is not a musical city. That depends some on one's viewpoint, whether it is the number of skilled musicians or music lovers that make a city musical or not. There is one thing certain, that the children in the Franklin schools love to sing and love music.

In November I gave in every grade what I call a victrola concert, but it was in reality a listening lesson. Without any exception I had the best of attention. I am convinced that the children want to hear music.

I recommend that appreciation be placed in the schools, to supplement the present course. I also recommend that reasonable credits be given for high school music. I believe that credits and appreciation would increase the interest and raise the standard of the music.

I take this opportunity to thank you and all those who have shown a kindly interest and cooperated with me in my work.

Respectfully submitted,

ISABEL KEMPTON EMERSON.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR IN DRAWING.

To the Superintendent and Board of Education:

Recalling the work of past year, we will begin with the freshmen. These classes made representation drawings, which were tinted in neutral values or flat colors. Some displayed lettering suitable for advertising. They did some bookbinding and arranged greeting cards, and the elevation of a room. If the cards had been printed you would be surprised to see how favorably they would compare with commercial lines.

During the recent fall term the work has continued much as in previous years, though somewhat hampered by adjusting ourselves to different conditions, with fewer facilities, than before.

In the grades we made decorative drawings for posters employing common objects in parallel and angular perspective. There is interest and often considerable ability. In view of this it is regrettable that only one lesson a week is allowed. It not only is impossible to keep up to the standard, but the children, where more time is given, have an entirely different attitude regarding the degree of accuracy necessary. Doing this work in so little time has a tendency to produce mediocre, instead of refined results. To some extent every pupil may be an artist. At the Eastern Art Convention, one speaker defined for us, an artist, as a searcher and workër.

Nothing so stimulates cultural work as seeing worthy examples and drawing. When Napoleon brought spoils from Italy, the Duke of Parma offered $200,000 if one painting might be retained. Napoleon refused saying, "The money will soon be spent, but the picture will stimulate similar exertions of genius, besides enhancing the capitol for years."

In the fall we made outlines of plant forms, and anatomical sheets showing structural growth. This observation is necessary for the brush work later.

We did less formal work in the spring. Free brush drawing in color appeals strongly to children. All classes, from the first grade, use a simple alphabet for rapid lettering.

We made drawings related to the Pilgrims. After this came greeting cards and gifts (which could be made from regular material, paper and colors), for Christmas. The children did this sympathetically, with mutual understanding and good will. A design applied to something useful, in different mediums, is more absorbing than technical work upon paper. It is much more fun to create a design if it is to be used and enjoyed by others. Industrially, design is becoming an element to be estimated in the cost of production and trade value. This effects the standard of aesthetic taste. In some measure art teachers are responsible for whatever exists.

The importance of industrial art is better recognized in Europe, where for seventy five years it has been nationally financed, and state supervised. In America this urgent though unanswered need is being realized by many patriotic and clear visioned men.

In the primary grades they produced with chalk and crayons, figures and landscapes, which possessed real if elusive elements of creativeness. They made Indians and animals with action enough to be dramatic. As the pictograph precedes oral or written words, so small children express ideas in that way, which they could not otherwise. They like to make free cuttings, learn to recognize hues and values, with measuring for more formal work.

Appreciation of all who have co-operated with this work is gratefully acknowledged.

Most respectfully submitted,
